ARTIST BIO

"LET'S MAKE SOMETHING BEAUTIFUL"

EARLY CHILDHOOD

Elijah grew up with his family having intense devotion and total immersion in a small religious community on a farm in Maryland.

ADOLESCENCE

Early adolescence Elijah moved to Florida to live with his older brother, where here apprenticed under a tattoo artist.

LATE ADOLESCENCE

Lack of exposure to great art left Elijah restless and uninspired. He moved around from city to city searching for inspiration and a new way of life.

EARLY ADULthood

His first exposure to great art was during a visit to the National Gallery of Art. After seeing epic paintings from old world masters, Elijah was deeply moved and inspired.

Many of these paintings echoed the religious stories from Elijah's childhood. The technical mastery and profound narrative structure led Elijah to fall in love with classical art.

Elijah became obsessed, making over 100 paintings in his first year of practice. Having displayed a natural talent with brushwork and an eye for composition Elijah's work began to sell.

Now Elijah works primarily as a mural artist, but he is also creating new series of acrylic paintings. He continues his artistic exploration cultivating his abilities in entrepreneurship and expanding his body of work.
